AND ITS GOVERNMENT

A perusal of Mayor Seymour's annual message, together with other documents emanating from city officials, reveal the fact that Newark is a progressive and growing city.

This is due, in a large degree, to the wisdom of its law makers and to the various heads of departments, upon whom rests the responsibility of making the laws effective. The thought therefore occurred to us that some plan should be adopted whereby not only the names of city officials but their features also, should be preserved for the gratification of future generations, descendants and others. On the following pages will be found a large number of these officers, all of whom are prominent, and have exerted powerful influence in shaping the wise policy of government that has prevailed, or have most efficiently enforced the laws after they were made.

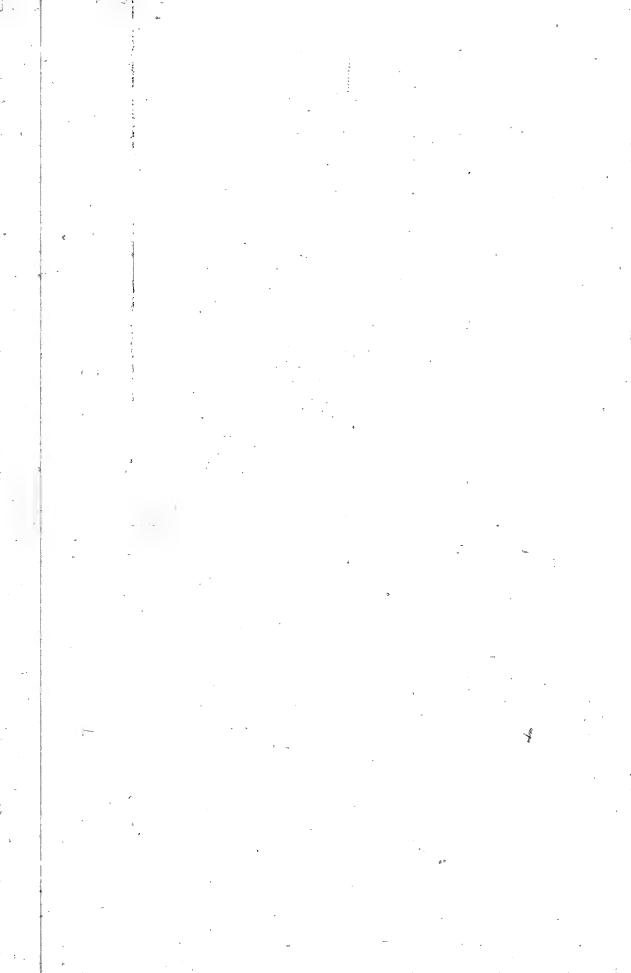

What is true of the city is also true of the county, and its officials are no less deserving of praise for their uniform good judgment and fidelity to the interests of their constituents.

The Ciry Directory is a book, a goodly number of copies of which will always be preserved in places easily accessible to any one who may desire to refresh their memories of any of our public officials.

This feature of the Directory will no doubt prove to be one of great value, and will make it sought for even more than it has been in the past.

PREFACE

The 1899 Directory of the City of Newark takes its place in line with its sixty-four predecessors, and while it is in every respect their equal, it is in the number of names the superior of any.

The improvement in the financial condition of the people in the year past has not been without its influence in this city, and the last few months has witnessed a decided movement in building, which means more rapid growth in population.

This book contains a total of 78,393 names, and Harrison, Kearny and East Newark Borough have 7,082, making a grand total of 85,475. In Newark there are 2,009 firms, 759 lodges, societies, etc., and 810 public buildings, halls and churches. The total number of names of individuals in the city is 74,814, representing a population of 262,852.

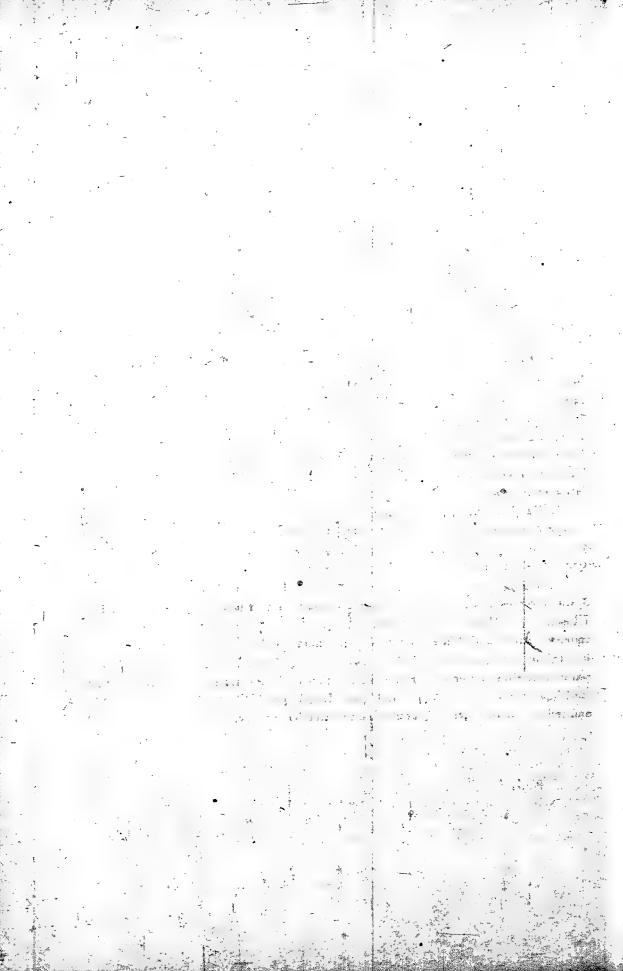

In Harrison there are 3,140 names, which would indicate a population of 10,990. Kearny has 3,299 names, or a population of 11,546. In East Newark Borough there are 643 names, which signifies a population of 2,250. The above figures are indicative of healthy growth.

Among the new features of the Directory this year will be found many pages devoted to presenting the portraits of the gentlemen to whom has been intrusted the reins of city and county government, or officers to whom we look for the faithful and impartial execution of the laws as they are made. This will be looked upon as an innovation in the right direction, for not only are the names but the features of our public men thus preserved for the gratification of future generations. The half-tone work upon these portraits is by the Illustro Engraving & Advertising Co., of this city, and reflects credit upon their artistic and mechanical ability.

ARLINGTON CEMETERY.

Established with especial reference to the needs and convenience of NEWARK AND JERSEY CITY.

These views illustrate the "Landscape Lawn System" for the laying out and care of Cemetery grounds, which is now almost universal in first-class modern Cemeteries.

If you wish to provide for future needs, or for present requirements, you will be interested in the prices and terms of sale of Arlington Cemetery lots, and in the provisions for perpetual care of the lots and graves by the Cemetery Association without assessments upon the lot owners.

The trolley cars from Newark to Arlington run up Broad Street to Clay Street, and cross the Passaic by the Clay Street Bridge.

Full information as to lots, prices and terms of payment may be obtained at the Cemetery Grounds, Telephone No. 17 F Arlington. At No. 239 Washington Street, Jersey City, Telephone No. 521, or At No. 345 Broad Street, Newark, near Clay Street.
